WHITNEY WORKSHOPS

These workshops are designed to help you make short-term graduate school and career decisions in the context of long-term life, academic, and career goals.

Thursdays @ 4pm
Zoom

JUNE 24

Decisions, Decisions!
Is graduate school for me? Should I pursue a Ph.D. or Master's degree? How do I choose a school? Should I work first? A panel of guests who once asked themselves these same questions will talk about their own decision-making process.

JULY 1

The In's and Out's of Admission Committees
Ever wonder what the key topics are to being noticed on an admission panel? What are the admission officers/faculty looking for? A faculty panel will talk about their expertise on serving on admissions committees and what can help you.

8 — Networking for Introverts
Networking can be one of the hardest parts of getting and maintaining a job. In this workshop we will discuss ways to make it more palatable for even the strongest of introverts.

15 — Resume and Interview Success
How do you market yourself effectively to a potential employer or advisor? In this workshop we will discuss the best ways to utilize resumes and interview settings to achieve career success.

22 — Science Needs Art and Creativity. Mostly, it Needs You
Dr. Carlos Gutiérrez is an Emeritus Professor of Chemistry at California State University, Los Angeles. He won an Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences Award for the film "Antimatter" that he created as an undergraduate that combines his interest in science and art. In this talk, Dr. Gutiérrez discusses the symbiotic relationship between art and science.

29 — Letters of Recommendation
Candace Rypisi, from Caltech's SFP office, will provide an in-depth look into what you can do at any stage of your academic career to help secure great letters of recommendation

AUG 5

Building Effective Research Collaborations
Collaborating is an essential part of conducting research. This workshop focuses on effective communication skills, conflict management, and conflict prevention.

VISIT: HTTP://SFPSTUDENTPORTAL.CALTECH.EDU/